President's Message

Hello again, the TQG Quilt Show is fast approaching and the planning is now in full swing. Karan Fisher and her Board are doing an amazing job and another fantastic show is promised.

I am excited to see all the quilts made by you all over the past 2 years - I have had a sneak peak of a few and cannot wait to see the full selection.

There are still some spots available for volunteering at the show, so if you have a little spare time during the 17th or 18th August just ping me an e-mail and I'll sign you up.

David Sirota treated us to a hilarious talk about being a quilter at this month's day and night meetings, and some of you also had a fun packed day learning his no tears method of paper piecing to create some beautiful examples of the Storm at Sea. I have had many requests for a return visit from him and hope that next year he will return with his version of the New York Beauty.

I hope you all have a great summer and, wherever you travel, be safe and have fun. For those who are staying closer to home, I look forward to seeing you at the Quilt Show

Saturday Guild

July Sat minutes

Christy Prenger called meeting to order.

Program was the member garage sale. There were 36 members and 5 guests present.

It is time to renew annual membership. $25.00 See Linda Kelly

The August program will be a Sudoku puzzle that will turn into a quilt or wall hanging. Christy will get the specifics out via email so everyone will know what to bring.

Cindy Hutton reported that the Quilt Show Challenge pieces are due.

Sybil Magrill reported that the deadline for registration for the quilt show is July 20. The quilt does not have to be finished to register, just finished by the turn in date. Quilt turn in days are Saturday August 4 at the Saturday guild meeting or on August 12, at Wyclift Presbyterian Church. See special newsletter for details.

Sheets are going around for volunteer signups for many different jobs needed to put on this show. We encourage everyone to pitch in and help as this is our biggest fund raiser.

There is a signup sheet for appraisals by Lynn Wilder of Williamsburg.

QOV - Sew days are July 20 at A Different Touch and July 21 at VFW 4890 (across the street from the side of the old Toys R Us on Military Hwy.) A presentation of quilts was made in June to 26 women of the Military Women of Tidewater at this VFW. Also included were 2 husbands of guild members.

Block of the Month - 14 members participated and Rosemary Rooney won the squares. We will continue this project next year.

UFO Challenge. Ruth Nixon won the topper challenge with all 5 of her tops completed and won the unclaimed $45 fees. Jan Krebs won the completed quilt challenge winning $ 99.

Scrap Diva - Betsy Kessler reported that she had delivered 23 pet beds in May and 13 more in June to the SPCA in VB. She will no longer be taking non quilt fabric - other types of fabric should be taken back by those who brought them. Thank you to all who have taken premade beds home to stuff with your scraps.

Thank you to everyone who is helping cut scraps into precuts. There is not a planned project for the 'precuts' yet. Small baggies of scraps will be at every meeting for members to take home and cut into the biggest square possible (1.5, 2, 2.5, 3, 3.5, 4, 4.5 and 5 inch squares - no blocks) and strips starting at 1.5 inches. Several ideas suggested so far: put together for some prizes like at this past spring fling; package and sell by size to sell at next year's quilt show, bundle and present to new quilters to build their stash, as an additional choice for door prizes. Ideas welcome. Goal is to make this material more usable instead of throwing it away. Thanks to all who are bringing them back.

Raffle Quilts - Tickets are still available for both raffle quilts - Volunteers to work the raffle tables are needed and spots are included on the Quilt Show volunteer list.

Door prizes were won by Debbie Wright and Christie Pringer.

Greetings Fellow Quilters!!!

My name is Christie Prenger and I am the new coordinator for the Saturday Chapter. I wanted to introduce myself and briefly outline a few things we are planning for the upcoming year. Many details still need to be determined and will be released as soon as they are nailed down. I have some really big shoes to fill by taking Heather's place, and I hope to make things as fun and exciting as she did.

We have had a great response to the UFO challenge in the past, and we shall continue it. It is a great motivator to get some projects off the "To-Do" list and on to the D.O.N.E. list!!! A measly $5 donation at the start of the program and the potential to win the kitty at the end of the program may be just the nudge you need to get stuff done. If you are interested, start digging in your piles of UFO's to select the projects you want to get finished. Consider that Christmas is just around the corner, and some of these could make great gifts this year.

In addition to the UFO challenge being a hit, our BOM program has had great success as well. I am working with Joanne Parlante, our programs person, to continue the BOM program. We loved the idea of holding one block back each month and raffling off the reserved blocks at the end of the year to make an awesome sampler quilt.

The program for August is a Suduko quilt. For those that love the number puzzle, this should be fun. We will start by solving an Easy level Suduko number puzzle. Don't worry if you don't know how, or don't like to do them, I will also provide the solution. This will become the pattern for a very simple 9 -patch quilt top. See page 14 for details.

Message from the Coordinator

The night chapter still has a few positions left open. We need 2 greeters, a library person, someone for magazines and a stand in for block of the month. Sybil will be going on deployment but wants the job back upon her return next year. This person will need to assume the position starting in September; she will have kits made for sale.

Please give your local presenter program suggestions to Barbara Vranjican.

August's program will be a trunk show by Joan Bryan "My Quilting Journey" which will be about her journey to quilting, use of color and other helpful hints. The yard sale will be held in January when we all need to clean out all those unwanted items to fulfill those New Year resolutions.

FIRST AQS SHOW GETTING CLOSE!

We are nearly ready for our show and it's time to sign up to assist with the AQS Show scheduled for October 3-6 of this year. We recently received the list of volunteers required by AQS and we will need all of your help.

The racks will be assembled and broken down by AQS personnel but they need us to handle the quilts to ensure they will be taken care of properly.

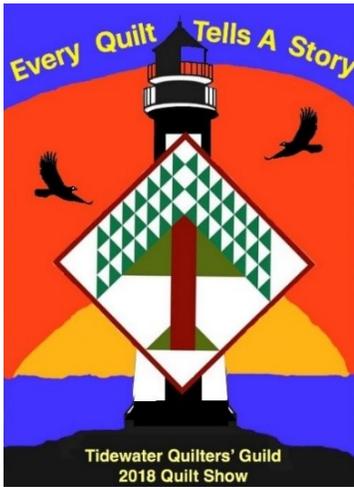

The list of lectures and classes are open and are on their website. <http://www.quiltweek.com/locations/virginia-beach>

Please visit the site and check it out. Some of the classes are already filling up. They do not require helpers for the classes but each lecture requires 3-4 volunteers to take the tickets, hold up quilts, etc.

We will have space for our raffle quilt, a small silent auction and a check station for people to hold their bags, coats, etc. We will be keeping all funds from these stations.

In addition, the guild will receive $1,000 and each volunteer will get free admission for the day they volunteer. So a 2-3 hour volunteers stint each day can get you in to the see show all 4 days with no admission cost.

We only have two more months of meetings and the quilt show to sign up for the jobs. So sign up soon. Betts Werbiskis (757) 434-2557 and Ann Walls (757) 407-4439 will be there to get you involved. If you cannot attend the meetings, call one of them to sign up.

The TQG 2018 Quilt Show

There's 4 weeks, or 28 days, or 672 hours before the TQG 2018 Quilt Show "Every Quilt Tells A Story".

The "Special Quilt Show Edition" Newsletters for June and July have been published in order to communicate quilt show specific information for everyone! In the meantime, if you have any questions or concerns please contact me by phone or text at (757) 761-1173 or email the quilt show committee at tgg.quiltshow@gmail.com. This email address can be shared with your friends, family, other guilds, etc.

The annual inventory of the books is going on, and librarians in chapter meetings are only collecting books, and not checking them out. Chapters will have collections with new items in September. All books checked out are due in the August meetings, whether Challenge books or no. Please check your workrooms for Library items!

The website's Library listing has a (nearly) current listing of our collection by Title or by Author. Yes, it's usable now. Even better, as part of the inventory all old titles and the new ones you haven't seen yet are going into Access instead of Excel and they're getting (yes!!) Subject classification numbers!!! I've been working on this for a few years now, and it should be available sometime this fall. Books will continue to have their colored and numbered tags in the collections - the class numbers will be browsable in each chapter's library notebook, and online. I hope you're all going to find this useful.

Guild Library Challenge

Back in March all three chapters began the Library Challenge! The basic idea was to check out a Guild Library book, make something based on it, and then show the result with a brief talk about the book. Many, many books were checked out for this (great news for the library!) and the original August deadline is coming up!

The rules were these:

Minimum size = 1620 square inches. No maximum size. This could be done as a set, for example, a table runner and placemats could total the necessary area,.

Technique and method = anything that has a top, batting, quilting and binding is allowable.

Completion = yes. No incomplete or unfinished items.

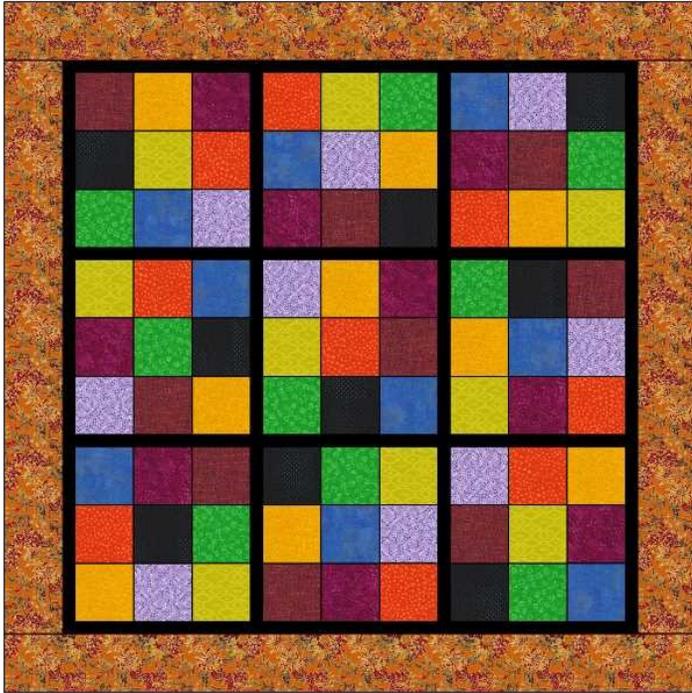

Use of book = Use a pattern or be inspired by a story or illustration. Be prepared to tell something about how the book inspired your project, and about the book generally.

Prizes = yes. This will be by a drawing among all the items shown and declared as part of the Library Challenge. Show your item during Show-and-Tell, and make sure the chapter librarian got your name and the name of the book you used.

Because of the upcoming shows and deadlines, the board decided to extend the deadline for the Library Challenge to the December meetings! This means that you still have time to start and finish something for the challenge!

Be careful, though: August is still the due date for all the books already out, and your librarians would much rather check books out to you than call and email to get them returned! The annual book inventory requires all of them back in, at least for a time.

Saturday Chapter Suduko Quilt Information

Suduko Quilt Fabric Requirements: Finished size is 59" x 59"

1 ¼ yards – Fabric for Border – multicolor to help choose color pallet.

5/8 yard – solid black – sashing

9 FQ's – ensure good contrast between all FQ's. (If using straight yardage, 3/8 yard cuts needed). Use border fabric to help pull a color pallet.

Library Quilt Challenge Continued:

What to do if you have a book and want to show your work later? Make note of title, author and library number (that's the Red, Blue or Yellow tag and number in the top right of the cover), make some notes about what you want to say and anything you still need to finish your piece, and turn the book in. You might check it out again before showing your item, or just tell about it by name.

New projects will be able to check out books in September, when all the collections are back out.
